

Business Group Claims Recall Petitions Ready

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A dynamic, three-day-old businessmen's committee today claimed enough petition signatures for a recall election to oust three segregationist members of the Little Rock School Board who fired 44 teachers and school employees.

The Committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge (STOP) estimated it had 6,000 signatures and more were expected to come in today. About 7,000 are needed to call the election.

In the meantime, a segregationist group was campaigning hard to get petition signatures to recall the other three school board members who denounced the purge and have taken a stand of moderation in the integration crisis.

A school board member suggested that the entire board quit.

The STOP committee was formed last Friday to seek the ouster of School Board President Ed J. McKinley and members Ben Rowland and Robert Laster. They dismissed the teachers in a meeting last week. McKinley said later a large number of the teachers were let out because of "integrationist views."

Dwight Tucker Jr., Russell Malson Jr. and Ted Lamb, the moderate board members, walked out on the meeting and denounced the firing.

Dr. Drew Agar, president of STOP, said he wasn't sure if the committee would file the petitions with county authorities today. He said it was hoped that 7,500 signatures could be gathered.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the Central High School Mothers League, a segregationist organization, said the campaign to prepare petitions for the recall of Tucker, Malson and Lamb was "going very good" but declined to be interviewed.

Buggy Getting a Washing Here

THAT OLD BUGGY is coming back. This one is getting a wash job at the Miller-Reese City Service station. "We intend to be ready for opening of the new Buggy factory at Emmet, Mr. Reese said. A free wash and axle grease job is offered to the first 10 who purchase a buggy from this new factory."

Spa Ratified Dog Racing, Court Rules

By LEON HATCH.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today ratified a proposed dog race track for Hot Springs.

The court in a divided opinion, said that the track had been approved a year ago when a majority of Garland County residents who voted on the issue, favored the facility.

The Garland County Election Commission contended unsuccessfully that the proposition had not carried because it was not approved by a majority of those whose names were listed on the Garland County poll tax books.

Several weeks ago, while the case was pending before the Supreme Court, Gov. Orval Faubus inserted a half-page newspaper advertisement in the Arkansas Democrat selling out his opposition to the new track.

The governor said later he was not trying to influence the court but was merely expressing a personal view.

Today's majority opinion was written by Associate Justice Ed F. McFaddin, who was joined by Chief Justice Carlton Harris and Associate Justices Sam Robinson and Jim Johnson.

Associate Justices J. S. Holt and George Rose Smith dissented, and Associate Justice Paul Ward did not participate.

The legal question at stake involved interpretation of Act 11 of 1958, which set up as a requirement for establishment of future dog tracks approval at a local option election by a majority of the voters of the county involved.

The act says that the proposed track must be approved by "a majority of the qualified electors of such county."

At the Garland County election, on May 6, 1958, 4,682 persons voted for a dog track which the Hot Springs Kennel Club plans to build. 3,882 persons voted against the proposed track.

At the time, there were 17,245 poll tax holders listed in the county.

The Garland County Election Commission ruled the track proposal had failed because it did not receive a majority of those named in the poll list.

The Kennel Club went to court, and former Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff held that the track had been approved.

He pointed out that the Legislature had not specified a majority of those listed on the poll book and said that in the absence of any guide as to what was meant by qualified electors, a majority of those voting was sufficient.

Today's majority opinion affirmed.

Spinning Storms Reach Illinois and Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Spinning wind storms reached into Michigan and Illinois today, killing one person at Ann Arbor and causing severe damage. Monticello, in central Illinois, was hit also.

The light twisting winds eddied into the central Great Lakes region after weekend tornadoes ripped into six states in the plains and Midwest, killing 5, injuring 21, and causing heavy property damage.

The Ann Arbor storm, described by witnesses as a small tornado, ripped part of the roof from Yost Fieldhouse. At the big University of Michigan stadium, press box windows were blown out.

One woman was reported killed by a fallen electric line. Two houses were set afire.

Apparently, only the Monticello area was hit in Illinois.

Striking just before dawn, the Illinois twisters cracked a wall and damaged the roof of a one-story plant, upset two parked trucks, shattered a dozen store windows in town and snapped utility lines.

A number of roofs were damaged in the town, but no one was injured.

Thunder storms broke out in warm, humid air in the east, and another thunderstorm cracked over Monticello.

Rains swept wide areas of the Midwest in the wake of the destructive storms.

Scores of homes were demolished, huge semi-trailer trucks were tossed about like leaves and the four-building Iowa community of Tinsler was wiped out in tornadoes which lashed Texas, Iowa, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Wisconsin Sunday.

Tornadoes whipped through Oklahoma both Saturday and Sunday with roars which sounded to a farm wife "like a thousand winds blowing in all directions at the same time."

It was in the Oklahoma town of Folsom that a twister killed five persons and injured nine.

Heavy hail storms followed the tornadoes in a number of communities. Then came the rains. Hail the size of baseballs, fell in the vicinity of Corps Christi, Tex., and egg-size hail covered the ground near Austin.

By states, this was the tornado-drawn picture:

TEXAS—Ten tornadoes daged through Texas, injuring at least 100 persons.

Unemployment Dips, Number of Workers Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of Americans at work rose by over a million in April to a record total of 65 million. Unemployment declined by 735,000.

The improvement in both employment and unemployment were double what is seasonally expected in April.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis Strauss and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said in a joint statement the figures demonstrate a rapidly accelerating job recovery.

Employment rose to 65,012,000, an increase of 1,184,000 over March. This is 2,105,000 more jobs than in April last year.

Unemployment declined to 3,627,000, dipping by 735,000 from March. This is a decline of 1,493,000 from the recession conditions in April of last year.

The 1957 figures in April were 64,261,000 employed and 2,600,000 unemployed.

In the first four months of this year unemployment has dropped by over one million.

The Commerce-Labor monthly job report attributed the April improvement to an unusually large pickup in construction and hiring in hard good manufacturing together with the spring expansion in agriculture.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment in the labor force dropped to 5.3 per cent in April, by comparison with 5.8 per cent in March and around 6 per cent during the winter months.

Strauss and Mitchell said in their joint statement: "This April, one year after the turning point in the recession, the rate of unemployment was about two-thirds of the way back to pre-recession levels. The strong improvement in the last two months was in contrast to the lag in job recovery during the past winter."

Both the factory work week and earnings increased in April. The manufacturing work week rose to 40.3 hours, two hours greater than a year ago. More than half the gain represented increased "over time."

Average weekly earnings of factory workers hit a record of $80.87 in April, up 63 cents from March. This was more than 9 higher than a year ago, mainly as a result of the increased hours in overtime pay. Hourly earnings rose 1 cent in April to $2.23, or 12 cents higher than the average a year ago.

Hopeful Cold War Problems Can Be Settled

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers opened their conference on cold war problems tonight, 2 1/2 hours after turning around for a time on the question of how the East German government should participate.

The first session of the conference was scheduled for the Palace of Nations, instead, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his Soviet, British and French counterparts got together informally at a British villa.

From this meeting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko emerged with the announcement the formal session was set for 6 p.m.

There has been a complete agreement on all procedural and administrative matters," he said, adding that this included the question of German participation.

Gromyko led the informal party first. He was followed by Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Lloyd, designated to preside at tonight's opening session, led the efforts to resolve the dispute involving the whole issue of the status of the Red East German regime.

The formula decided upon for the formal opening session was as follows:

The East and West Germans sit at separate tables. The Big Four foreign ministers sit at a round table but all on one side leaving one side vacant.

The West German table is closer to the seat occupied by Herter, the East German closer to Gromyko. The two German delegations are separated by a small table for the conference secretariat.

Asst. U.S. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berling held up a diagram of the seating arrangement for reporters to see.

Asked if the West had made any concession to the Russians, Berling said: "We haven't given way on anything."

Western spokesmen said the separate tables idea met the original Western objections to having the meeting at a round table. The West had feared that if only a round table was used the Russians would try to squeeze in first, the East Germans and later the Poles and Czechoslovaks as full participants.

Under the agreed upon formula the Germans are advisers and not full participants as demanded by the Russians.

If either the East or West German "representative desires to speak, the conference chairman will ask if any of the Big Four foreign ministers has any objections. If there are none, the floor will be given to the Germans.

Western officials said the Soviet maneuver to seat East Germany was aimed at compelling a degree of Western recognition of the German Red regime.

The move could force a quick breakdown of the conference, they declared, but most of them expected Gromyko to back down. The West is willing to invite the East and West Germans in as observers but not as full-fledged participants.

British informants said Gromyko and Lloyd had talked about something along this line: Gromyko would drop his demand to have the Germans seated at the conference table. The Western ministers in turn would agree that the German representatives could speak out in the conference instead of making their views known only through one of the Big Four ministers.

A U.S. spokesman told newsmen the United States would not want to see the Geneva conference break up on a procedural issue.

The Soviet move on the eve of the conference was seen as a tactical move.

Britain to Furnish Iraq Tanks, Planes

LONDON (AP)—Britain formally announced today it will furnish tanks and planes to the Iraqi government of Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem.

John Profumo, minister of state for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons the British grant is in answer to a request from the Kassem regime earlier this year.

Behind the response was a belief in Britain that drastic moves are necessary to stem the Communist tide in Iraq.

British and Iraqi officials are discussing details of the arms grant, he said.

Jury May Get Full Report on Alford Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The full U.S. District Court grand jury met today to receive a report from a committee to jurors which has been conducting an investigation of the Alford-Hays congressional race.

Jury Foreman Carroll Thibault has said the committee would report on its findings and any jury action would be decided by a majority of the jurors.

Presumably this meant the jury would decide whether to continue the investigation.

The full jury convened March 23 to determine if any violations of federal election laws occurred in the victory of Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) over Brooks Hays in the Fifth Congressional District election last Nov. 3. Alford, running as a write-in candidate, unseated Hays who was the Democratic nominee.

After examining some of the ballot boxes and other election materials, the full jury turned details of the investigation over to the committee.

The conference created an atmosphere of crisis which momentarily obscured the larger crisis of Berlin.

The opening speeches by Lloyd, Secretary of State Christian A. Hoff, Gromyko and Couve de Murville were expected to swing attention back to the main issues. These include the Soviet bid for withdrawal of Western forces from West Berlin and a proposal by the Western powers for step-by-step unification of East and West Germany.

The three Western leaders want to find out in the next week or two whether there is any possibility of winning Soviet acceptance of German unification at a summit conference. Agreement on a unity plan would almost automatically solve the Berlin problem, since Berlin would be the capital of a reunited country.

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers postponed the opening of their conference on cold war problems today. Dandlock on Soviet demands to admit East Germany as a major battle-point was to blame.

The ministers of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France decided to meet informally later in the day to try to break the deadlock.

A British delegation spokesman said the informal meeting was arranged during a brief discussion between British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The two had met in a futile effort to settle the dispute.

The spokesman said Lloyd and Gromyko decided that as things stand now, there was no chance of the formal conference beginning on schedule and they agreed to postpone.

The spokesman insisted that despite the postponement of the for-ed Huff's ruling.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today ruled that Garland County voters had legally approved a proposed dog racing track at Hot Springs.

The high court split 4-2, with one justice not participating. Involved was the interpretation of Act 191 of 1957 which requires that before any new dog track be established, the proposed plant must be approved at a local option election.

Approval has to come from a majority of the qualified electors in the county concerned.

Former Garland Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff held that this meant only a majority of those voting at an election, as was the case in Garland County.

The court majority upheld this view today.

Several weeks ago, Gov. Orval E. Faubus came out against the proposed Hot Springs dog track. He took the unusual step of purchasing a half page newspaper advertisement to set out his views.

At the opening session, the conference actually has started.

"We are in the middle of one of the fundamental issues which we expected the Geneva conference would have to face," said one high official.

Diplomatic quarters also reported a complete tie-up in the four power liaison group which had been trying to agree on the size and shape of the table to be used at the conference.

The Soviet Union wants a round table on the theory it will make it easier to expand the conference. The Soviets would like to have Poland and Czechoslovakia, as well as East Germany, at the meetings. The West favors a square table, limiting the conference to four powers, one at each side.

The Big Four foreign ministers were being entertained at a luncheon by the Swiss Federal Council. George Pathley, deputy chief of the U.N. headquarters here, went to the luncheon in the hope of getting a decision out of the ministers on a time for opening the conference.

Earlier, Lloyd had called a meeting of the Western foreign ministers to consider a formula for settling the German participation dispute.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano sat in with Lloyd, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Hoff, and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. They assembled at Lloyd's residence.

The Western ministers met for just under an hour and discussed versions of a compromise proposal on the role of the German delegations at the conference. Then Lloyd went to see Gromyko.

She said it was hoped the petitions could be filed by the middle of this week.

Under law, only one recall election can be held in a single year. Thus it appeared the STOP committee will beat their opponents to the punch in the petition race.

An all-day drive by STOP and the Mothers League was held yesterday.

Meanwhile, Lester suggested that the entire six-man school board resign under a "gentleman's agreement." He said each opposing side in the dispute over the teachers could then run a slate of candidates for election. Lester added that he thought the full board could reach a settlement on the controversial teacher firings in all six weeks.

Lester conceded that not all of the teachers should have been fired.

"We're human and subject to error," he said.

Amis Guthridge, attorney for the segregationist Capital Citizens Council, said the current furor was "aided by communist frontiers." He called the uproar a "showdown" in Little Rock's long integration dispute.

Mrs. Jackson said that the teacher controversy signalled an important stage in the crisis.

Eugene Warren, attorney for the Little Rock Classroom Teachers' Assn., has said he will seek this week a declaratory judgment on the legality of the teacher firings.

Only one man was injured. The communities of Guthrie, Center, Rippey and Bagley also suffered property damage.

WISCONSIN — A tornado cut through sections of Green Bay and the suburbs of Preble and Ashwaubenon, injuring three persons, demolishing six homes and heavily damaging 60 others. Man Charged With Killing Family

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—John Reynolds, 36, a hotel chef, was charged today with murdering his wife and wounding two other women at a church at Katoomba while the congregation was listening to a revival by Billy Graham's closing sermon in Sydney Sunday.

The police prosecutor said Reynolds went to St. Hilary's church with his 12-month-old son.

An argument developed in an adjoining room with his estranged wife, Stella, 38, the prosecutor said, and Reynolds stabbed her in the chest. The other two women were wounded when they tried to assist Mrs. Reynolds.

The highest crowd of Graham's career, 50,000 people, packed into two adjoining areas were at the windup on the Sydney crusade.

Brown Being Mentioned as V-P Candidate

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown is beginning to get some close attention as a possible 1960 Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Brown's recent indications that he is beginning to take himself seriously in this connection have proved disturbing to some of the more active aspirants for the party's presidential nomination. They would like to annex California's hefty convention vote for themselves.

If Brown can get divergent California Democratic factions behind him for a favorite son designation he will be nominally in the race for the presidential nomination himself.

As long as he can keep the California delegation behind him, it won't be able to start a swing toward some major candidate for the top prize. In such a case Brown would be in a trading position that might make him an attractive candidate for second place.

With Brown keeping himself in the picture, presidential aspirant, like Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Stuart Symington of Missouri, have to be content with trying to build up second choice strength for themselves in California.

Brown's possible availability for second place adds to a real excitement on what happens in Kennedy. Both are Roman Catholics and no one expects the Democrats to nominate an all-Catholic ticket.

If Kennedy fails to make the grade for the top nomination, however, Brown may benefit from the spreading belief that one of his faith has a much better chance of election now than Al Smith had in 1928.

The religious issue has been explored publicly so thoroughly in the last couple of years that many Democrats now feel they would be reviving charges of bigotry if they didn't pick a Catholic on one end of their ticket.

This is where Brown comes in.

Inter-American Bank Urged by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to approve U.S. participation in establishment of an inter-American development bank.

For the United States to join, Eisenhower said "will be a most significant step in the history of our economic relations with our Latin-American neighbors."

Establishment of the billion-dollar bank was recommended by representatives of the 21 American republics after a three-month conference here starting last Jan. 8. The participating nations would provide the capital.

The United States would invest 450 million dollars. The Latin American republics would put up the rest.

The President said he is strongly of the opinion the United States should support creation of the bank because of this country's special relationship with Latin America, and because of the pressing economic and social problems in the area.

Macmillan Sends a Letter to Khrushchev

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has sent Premier Khrushchev another letter, apparently supporting President Eisenhower's latest call for agreement on a limited nuclear test ban.

A spokesman said Macmillan's letter "links up very much with the Washington announcement."

Congressional sources said in Washington Saturday that Eisenhower had made the point that the Russians should be willing to agree to a limited ban on readily detected tests in the atmosphere even if they were unwilling to accept an inspection agreement.

The youngsters dived quickly behind the dunes. When they peered over the tops to see what was up, two more shots were fired. They died a rag to the end of a stick, held it up, and one of them cried, "Truce, two jims."

More shots were fired and the badly frightened youngsters started to run. At the top of a dune Tommy suddenly stopped, fell and rolled down the side.

The boys stopped running and the shooting stopped. One of the older boys came up, put his shirt under Tommy's head, and walked away.

A few minutes later police received a phone call which sent them to the dunes.

Game of War Leaves One Youth Dead

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Two teenagers were held today for the fatal shooting of a boy as he played a game of war along the Delaware River in North Camden.

The victim, Thomas Harris Jr., 12, was with nine other boys on the sand dunes when he was shot early Saturday night. He died two hours later in Cooper Hospital.

Those held are Louis Griffith, 17, and John Sibiero, 18.

Tommy's cousin, Joseph Randik, 14, told this story:

The boys often used the dunes along the river for their game of war. They were playing this game Saturday night when three older boys suddenly appeared and a shot

Oral Arguments in Two Damage Cases

Involved is a 1955 act which provides for compulsory isolation of persons suffering from communicable diseases.

DOROTHY DIX
Lincoln Freed the Slaves In 1863 — Remember Lady?
Dear Dorothy Dix: Ten years ago I was left a widow with two children and a year later married a divorced man who was childless. During our courtship he was a sweet, even-tempered, considerate man, but those wedding bells changed him completely. He turned out to be a willful, dictatorial man who would not tolerate disobedience of his orders. He objected to just about everything the children did, wouldn't allow their friends in the house and when my daughter went on a date (with my knowledge and consent, but not his) at the age of 18, he ordered her from the house. She went to my mother's, I had to send her clothes there, and since then she hasn't been allowed to see him.
She's to be married in two months and I have already been told I can't go to the wedding or send her a gift. I continued working and he's married, so any money I send wouldn't come out of his pocket.
When the house needs repairs or I need help with sewing or storm windows, my son picks in — his stepfather never lifts a hand. Although my husband won't help with anything, he gives orders about how it is to be done. The boy resents this and I see trouble ahead in that direction too. My husband has very high standards for anyone but himself. I have my job, plus work I do at home, take care of the house, do all washing, ironing, cooking, gardening and run over to help his parents who are old and ill. He has a job that isn't too steady and that's all he does.
Oh, yes, he runs the family finances. All money is turned over to him — even odd-job money my son makes. He does not let me need for a dollar's necessities. What he does with the rest I don't know. I know if I leave him he couldn't take care of himself. I don't want to go but, although I do everything he says, I still can't please him. When he's in his rare good moods, he's enjoyable company — but that isn't often.
Dear Vicky: A truth that has been proved in domestic life, national politics and international relations is the more you give in to a tyrant the more he demands. Tell your husband you are going to your daughter's wedding, that you further intend to see her as often as possible, and have to do so privately — you won't be around. Can't you realize that he depends on you? You get nothing from him. You're in the driver's seat; he's just excess baggage. When you come back from the wedding, and he is still in a bad mood, pack up and take the boy for a vacation. Demand to be treated like a human being and your husband will do so — after he recovers from the shock of seeing you exercise some spunk.
Dear Dorothy Dix: I am madly in love with my English teacher. He's married and has one little girl. Can you advise me what to do about it? — Lorna
Dear Lorna: Switch to French. Crushes on teachers are hopeless things. They embarrass the teacher who has a hard enough job already. He has to cope with your mind, not your emotions. Do a good deed — get a crumb on Ricky Nelson. It's safer.
Dear Dorothy Dix: My 15-year-old daughter seems quite ignorant about sex education. I want her to know about it in the right way. It seems a little hard for me to explain to her. Have you any information or can you tell me where I can get it? — Mrs. H.
Dear Mrs. H.: I have compiled a list of books and pamphlets that deal adequately and well with the problem you have. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my list. "Sex Education for the Teen-Ager."
Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX
Lincoln Freed the Slaves In 1863 — Remember Lady?
Dear Dorothy Dix: Ten years ago I was left a widow with two children and a year later married a divorced man who was childless. During our courtship he was a sweet, even-tempered, considerate man, but those wedding bells changed him completely. He turned out to be a willful, dictatorial man who would not tolerate disobedience of his orders. He objected to just about everything the children did, wouldn't allow their friends in the house and when my daughter went on a date (with my knowledge and consent, but not his) at the age of 18, he ordered her from the house. She went to my mother's, I had to send her clothes there, and since then she hasn't been allowed to see him.
She's to be married in two months and I have already been told I can't go to the wedding or send her a gift. I continued working and he's married, so any money I send wouldn't come out of his pocket.
When the house needs repairs or I need help with sewing or storm windows, my son picks in — his stepfather never lifts a hand. Although my husband won't help with anything, he gives orders about how it is to be done. The boy resents this and I see trouble ahead in that direction too. My husband has very high standards for anyone but himself. I have my job, plus work I do at home, take care of the house, do all washing, ironing, cooking, gardening and run over to help his parents who are old and ill. He has a job that isn't too steady and that's all he does.
Oh, yes, he runs the family finances. All money is turned over to him — even odd-job money my son makes. He does not let me need for a dollar's necessities. What he does with the rest I don't know. I know if I leave him he couldn't take care of himself. I don't want to go but, although I do everything he says, I still can't please him. When he's in his rare good moods, he's enjoyable company — but that isn't often.
Dear Vicky: A truth that has been proved in domestic life, national politics and international relations is the more you give in to a tyrant the more he demands. Tell your husband you are going to your daughter's wedding, that you further intend to see her as often as possible, and have to do so privately — you won't be around. Can't you realize that he depends on you? You get nothing from him. You're in the driver's seat; he's just excess baggage. When you come back from the wedding, and he is still in a bad mood, pack up and take the boy for a vacation. Demand to be treated like a human being and your husband will do so — after he recovers from the shock of seeing you exercise some spunk.
Dear Dorothy Dix: I am madly in love with my English teacher. He's married and has one little girl. Can you advise me what to do about it? — Lorna
Dear Lorna: Switch to French. Crushes on teachers are hopeless things. They embarrass the teacher who has a hard enough job already. He has to cope with your mind, not your emotions. Do a good deed — get a crumb on Ricky Nelson. It's safer.
Dear Dorothy Dix: My 15-year-old daughter seems quite ignorant about sex education. I want her to know about it in the right way. It seems a little hard for me to explain to her. Have you any information or can you tell me where I can get it? — Mrs. H.
Dear Mrs. H.: I have compiled a list of books and pamphlets that deal adequately and well with the problem you have. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my list. "Sex Education for the Teen-Ager."
Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Oral Arguments in Two Damage Cases
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today heard oral arguments in two cases.
One was an appeal from a Circuit Court verdict of $52,000 to Mrs. Goldie Busby as a result of a fatal plane crash. The judgment was awarded Mrs. Busby against Dr. Robert W. Ratton of Manila.
Mrs. Busby's husband, Charles H. Busby, a flight instructor, and Billy Wayne Robinson, a student pilot, were killed when their plane collided with one piloted by Dr. Ratton at the Jonesboro Municipal Airport on Jan. 19, 1958.
The second appeal was taken by the Franklin County Health Department from refusal of the Franklin Chancery Court to order William F. Snow, 64 of Ozark, to enter a sanatorium for what the department contends is tuberculosis. Involved is a 1955 act which provides for compulsory isolation of persons suffering from communicable diseases.
Rulings in both cases could be handed down as early as next Monday.

Braves Riding High Again With Matthews, Aaron

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are riding high again with Hank Aaron and Eddie Matthews leading the team with 11 home runs and 27 runs scored.

Aaron's .485 average is the best in the majors and his 49 hits are high for both leagues. Matthews tops the big show with 11 home runs and 27 runs scored.

Their explosive punch is the main reason for Milwaukee's first place status. The Braves resumed the lead Sunday by taking a pair from Cincinnati.

The Braves scored seven runs in the eighth after Don Newcombe left in the 12-4 opener in which Matthews hit No. 11 and a pair of singles.

Aaron broke up the 2-1 second game with a tie-breaking single in the ninth. It was his fifth hit of a busy afternoon.

Los Angeles climbed into second place for a 3-2 victory over San Francisco, made possible by Clem Labine's second game-winning relief job in two days. Labine turned in two scoreless innings preserving Johnny Podres' fourth victory.

The Phillies and Pirates ran out of that Sunday cleanup role in Pittsburgh. After the Phillies handed Bob Feller his sixth straight defeat, 6-3, in the opener, the Pirates had opened up a 3-4 lead on Smokey Burgess' hitting when Feller was ejected.

In the last of the eighth, so the game must be completed July 21 before it goes into the standings.

Down-trodden St. Louis finally won a series, splitting two with Chicago for a 3-2 edge in a five-game series. Although Bob by Thomson hit two homers and drove in six runs, it took an 11th inning homer by Earl Averill to give the Cubs a 10-9 edge in the opener. Gino Cimoli, who had a big hitting day, teamed up with Curt Flood in some ninth inning heroics to give St. Louis the series.

The American League race tightened as Chicago twice dumped league-leading Cleveland 5-4 in 11 innings and 5-0 on the pitching of Bob Feller and Earl Wynn. Detroit made it seven out of eight under Jimmy Dykes, shading Kansas City 7-6.

New York won a pair from Washington, 6-3, and 3-2 in 10 innings with Ryne Duren saving Whitely Ford in the first and Norm Siebern's double winning the second.

Boston flipped Baltimore twice 3-2 in 10 innings on Don Buddin's homer and 4-5 behind Frank Baumgardner's six-hit pitching.

Milwaukee had lost the first two games of the series to the Reds but dropped the visitors into third place by taking the doubleheader. Bob Rush won the first, 7-6, from Newk with help from Don McMahon and Carl Willis, out-pitched Joe Nuxhall in a fine duel.

Rip Repulski and Charlie Neal homered for the Dodgers and Felipe Alou for the Giants before a San Francisco sellout of 22,641.

Alou's homer following a 4-1 lead in the eighth prompted Manager Walter Alston to bring in Labine.

Labine suspended game at Pittsburgh. Burgess had driven in four runs with a three-run pinch homer and a double when Curt few intervened. The opener was delayed for 15 minutes at the start and was held up again for 35 minutes by rain.

There was an oddity in the St. Louis-Cincinnati doubleheader. Lindey McDaniel of the Cards lost the first and won the second, both on relief. It was the same story for Chicago's Elmer Singleton who came from the bullpen to win the first and then lost the second.

Defense Still Marks Porker Practice Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Emphasis on the defense, marked the White team's 170 victory over the Red squad as the University of Arkansas Razorbacks ended spring football training Saturday night.

Fleet halfback Bruce Fullerton, a sophomore, scampered 63 yards on a kickoff return late in the fourth quarter to score the Reds' only touchdown.

Coach Frank Broyles commented: "I thought our defense was tough, real tough."

Defensive work brought the first score of the game, when White end Tim Langston tackled Red halfback Billy Kyser in the end zone for a safety in the first quarter.

Then the White line staled a Red drive in the second period, and Mickey Cissell kicked a 17-yard field goal to give the Reds a 3-2 edge.

The Whites scored twice in the last quarter, on Bubba Ferguson's 15 yard pass to Jim Collier and on quarterback James Monroe's six-yard run.

Red 0, 3, 0, 6 — 9
White 2, 0, 0, 15 — 17

Batting — Hank Aaron, Braves, collected five hits in 10 trips during double sweep over Cincinnati, boosting average to .485. His ninth inning single broke a tie and won the second game, 3-1.

Pitching — Early Wynn, White Sox, shut out league-leading Cleveland Indians with four hits, 5-0 in second game of doubleheader.

In this same instant, as the other two came out of their chairs with drawn guns, Sheriff Sid Link halted his horse in front of the house and demanded, "What's going on here?"

Breen warned, "If you want any supper you'd better get at it."

Overmire ignored him. He said to Fern, "Someone coming."

Fern who was facing the doorway cried: "Jim! Go back!" and dodged as Breen grabbed her.

Wynn, Pierce Get Sox Within 1st Place Reach

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Pierce and Early Wynn, a pair of route-going pitchers in an end-of-the-season race, have moved Chicago White Sox within striking distance of the American League lead.

Although Pierce gave up 13 hits he won all the way for the White Sox to beat Cleveland 5-4 in 11 innings Sunday, winning on a single by Bubba Phillips, who had tied the score with an eighth-inning homer.

Wynn, a 39-year-old professional, completed the job on the league leading Indians with a four hit, 5-0 shutout. The Sox backed him up with a 13-hit attack including Don Ennis' first American League homer.

Detroit's Tigers continued to streak under new manager Jiminy Dykes, whipping Kansas City 7-6 for their seventh victory in eight starts under the new boss.

The New York Yankees proved they are not quite ready for burial by taking a pair from Washington 6-2 and 3-2 the second in 10 innings.

The Boston Red Sox also did their bit to lighten up the American League race, grabbing two from high-flying Baltimore (3-2 in 10 innings and 5-1, Don Buddin's first home run won the opener for Leo Kieley. Frank Bauman's three-run triple and six-hit pitching led the heavy work in the second.

As the Western teams head East for their first extended road trip, the distance from top to bottom in the league is only 6 1/2 games.

Things are tight in the National League, too, where Milwaukee recaptured the lead from Cincinnati by downing the Reds twice, 12-4 and 2-1. Los Angeles eased into second, a half game back, by shading San Francisco 3-2 on some effective relief pitching by Clem Labine.

Philadelphia gave Pittsburgh's Bob Feller his sixth straight defeat 6-3 in the opener but the second game ran into the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew. With Pittsburgh leading 6-4 in the last of the eighth, St. Louis split a doubleheader with Chicago. The Cubs took the first 10-9 on Earl Averill's 11th inning homer. St. Louis pulled out the second game 9-7 in the ninth.

The White Sox continued to torment the Indians whom they have beaten six times in eight starts. As a result, Chicago is only 1 1/2 games out of first place.

Chicago's Billy Godman drove in the tying run in the White Sox 11th after Cleveland had scored once. Phillips then singled home the winner to give Pierce the edge over Dick Drowski.

Wynn had only one trouble, some inning, the third, when Minnie Minoso singled and Rocky Colavito doubled. He tightened up and didn't allow another hit. Los Angeles Mike Garcia never had another chance.

Dykes' Tigers won a battle of home runs from Kansas City. Charlie Maxwell, Lou Berberet and Rocky Bridges did the bombing for the Tigers although Roger Maris hit two for the A's.

Ryne Duren had to put down a ninth inning uprising at Yankee Stadium to save Whitey Ford in the first game. The Senators had scored twice and had two on with nobody out when Duren took over. He blew down the next three.

Norm Siebern's double, a sinking liner on which Jim Lemon missed a shoestring catch, won the 10th inning, scoring Mickey Maule who had singled off loser Callo Pascual. Duke Maas was the winner in relief.

Buddin's 10th inning homer sealed the first victory for reliever Kieley of Boston Bauman's triple led the second game at lack that also included a homer by Frank Malone. Jack Harshman and Hec Brown were the losers.

Link faced Breen and said, "Getting him to town might mean the difference between Ed living or dying."

Sid Link loosed a sighing curse. "Then I'll go get Doc Slattery myself," he said.

Breen shook his head. Link peered at him in bewilderment. "You're telling me, the sheriff, that I can't go to town?"

Breen nodded. "There was a short silence so Link nodded and turned toward the doorway but Breen stepped in front of him. "No, Sid. She ain't going to town."

"Why not?" Link demanded. Link glanced at Fern who was examining Overmire's wound, and asked, "Is he alive?"

Fern nodded. "But it's bad, Ed — we must hurry!"

Link faced Breen and said, "Getting him to town might mean the difference between Ed living or dying."

Big 4 Meet Can't Be Very Cheerful

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Geneva can hardly be described as cheerful.

No wonder. Before he left for Switzerland, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said he wasn't very optimistic.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd cautioned against too much optimism right after his arrival.

At a Western luncheon Sunday, reports said, Herter looked tired. French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville looked serious, and only Lloyd seemed happy.

One of the greatest deadpans in the business, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, said when he got there he expected serious work.

But his boss, Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has already said he looks on the meetings as a nuisance and a delay in getting to the summit with President Eisenhower.

This was the mood before anyone really said anything. Then it got worse.

The West German foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, and his opposite number, Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz, of Communist East Germany, are also in Geneva.

The West was willing for them to be at the conference, but only for consultation, if needed, and not as participants.

Stiff West doesn't want Bolz sitting in directly because that might be interpreted as meaning the West recognizes East Germany, which it doesn't.

Gromyko began to get in some looks before he even met the Westerners.

"Let's meet at a round table," Gromyko told the Westerners through his aides. The Westerners said: Let's have a square table.

So hassle No. 1 got started. At a round table the Soviets, who want recognition for the East Germans, could argue that seating Bolz would just be a matter of shifting a couple of chairs around to make room for him.

At a square table — with the eighth, St. Louis split a doubleheader with Chicago. The Cubs took the first 10-9 on Earl Averill's 11th inning homer. St. Louis pulled out the second game 9-7 in the ninth.

The White Sox continued to torment the Indians whom they have beaten six times in eight starts. As a result, Chicago is only 1 1/2 games out of first place.
